Hello, Robot. Design Between Human and Machine

Opens Saturday 2nd November
V&A Dundee, Riverside Esplanade

 Local bus into town
£6-£12

This groundbreaking exhibition investigates the science and fiction of robots and looks at how they are changing the world we live in. Posing a series of provocative questions, the show will explore how popular culture has shaped our perception of robots and artificial humans, the impact this technology has had on industry and the increasing blurring of the boundaries between human and machine.
